A student can demonstrate English language proficiency by taking IELTS exam (minimum score 5.0) or by demonstrating the reading and writing skills to the Brisbane College of Horticulture (BCH).

All candidates will be expected to be proficient in word processing, calculating financial ratios and accessing the internet.

Our credentials.

The Brisbane College of Horticulture was first registered as a training provider in November 2009 (CRICOS Registration number 03226B) offering courses in Horticulture (which it continues to do).

The RTO's registration details are

National registration <http://training.gov.au/Organisation/Details/32032>

CRICOS registration : <http://cricos.education.gov.au/Institution/InstitutionDetails.aspx?ProviderID=3226>

The College is also a member of the Australian Council for Private Training and Education (ACPET). ACPET's focus on high standards means only quality independent training organisations are admitted as members, who must adhere to the ACPET Code of Ethics.

The College provides the finest educational opportunity through a commitment to students' success. To achieve this, class sizes are kept relatively small, and do not exceed 10 students at any one time. This permits more active engagement between trainer, student and colleagues.

This is supported by the quality of the training resources and the experience of the trainers which serves to motivate students and fosters a personal approach to studying. The learning facilities are of the highest standard in presentation creating a friendly and relaxed learning environment.

Program Duration

This course will be delivered full time only, being 28 weeks of tuition with 20 hours of face to face delivery per week. Classes are held every week and participants will be required to attend each session.

Candidates will have 12 months in which to complete their studies (but this may be extended by a further 6 months' subject to the circumstances). During the 12-month period of study, candidates will have home based learning activities to complete representing approximately 10 hours per week and assessment activities requiring a further 20 hours per unit. As a consequence, candidates can expect to commit approximately 1200 hours to their study.

There will be holiday breaks every 10 weeks for 2 weeks.

Admission Method

It is best if you can enrol at the college head office although applications by mail are accepted.

At the time of your enrolment you will be asked to complete a self- assessment of your existing business skills. This assessment is designed to ascertain your current learning requirements that helps us design a program best suited to you. It may also highlight any prior experience in business administration or management and you may be eligible for RPL.

You will also be asked to provide your USI (Unique Student Identifier), which is a Government initiative that creates a secure, free, accessible lifetime on line record of your recognized training. If you don't have a USI go to the Government website <https://www.usi.gov.au/about> to find the information you need or talk to us.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

In addition to helping us design your course, the self-assessment described above may expose opportunities for the recognition of prior learning (RPL). This process enables your past training, (whether formal or informal) and/or work experience to be assessed and matched against the units of competency within this course. This can help reduce the time you need to complete the course.

Method of Study

The lessons are conducted in the classroom located at the Milton campus. All learners receive a set of learner guides that form part of the program.

The College may be available should you wish to utilise the premises outside normal study hours for additional study time.

If you have any concerns about the methods of study please speak to the college prior to enrolment.
