

STUDENT SUPPORT SERVICES POLICY

PURPOSE

The purpose of this policy is to ensure that under Standard 6 of the National Code 2018, the RTO provides access to sufficient support to ensure students can:

- adjust to study
- adjust to life in Australia including language, support, legal, health and emergency services, employment, workplace issues
- achieve their learning goals
- achieve satisfactory academic progress towards meeting the learning outcomes of the course
- course requirements including attendance, complaints, appeals
- access to the RTO's facilities and resources

POLICY

BCH will support students to adjust to study and life in Australia, to achieve their learning goals and to achieve satisfactory progress towards meeting the learning outcomes of the course.

BCH will induct each student prior to the commencement of course work to ensure they can settle into their new environment.

BCH will provide and inform the students of their available support and welfare services, staff availability and point of contact if they have any issue.

BCH will ensure it has sufficient student support personnel to meet the needs of the all enrolled students.

BCH will ensure that all staff that interact directly with students are aware of the both BCH's and their obligations under the ESOS framework as well as the potential implications to students.-

PROCEDURE

Orientation Program

BCH will at the commencement of each course undertake and complete an orientation / induction program that will be held for all overseas students.

The orientation / induction program covers the majority of what students will need to know about their course and adjusting to life in Australia. As a minimum the course must cover:

- Support services available to students to help them adjust to study and life in Australia;
- English language and study assistance programs;
- any relevant legal services;
- emergency and health services;
- the registered provider's facilities and resources;
- complaints and appeals processes;
- requirements for course attendance and progress, as appropriate;
- the support services available to assist overseas students with general or personal circumstances that are adversely affecting their education in Australia; and
- services overseas students can access for information on their employment rights and conditions, and how to resolve workplace issues, such as through the Fair Work Ombudsman.
- Ensuring learners are capable or potentially capable of completing their course

Orientation programs should consider BCH's local context. BCH may use verbal and written or electronic formats to deliver information, so that overseas students can both listen and take away material they can refer to later.

BCH must also:

- take all reasonable steps to provide a safe environment on campus or premises, and advise overseas students and staff on actions they can take to enhance their personal security and safety;
- provide information to overseas students about how to seek assistance for, and report, an incident that significantly impacts on their wellbeing, including critical incidents; and
- provide overseas students with, or refer them to (including electronically), general information on safety and awareness relevant to life in Australia, such as beach safety or the etiquette and laws concerning smoking in Australia.

The principal or delegated person is to run the Induction using both the International Student Handbook the International Student Induction Checklist and the Pre-enrolment Interview Checklist

Students MUST go through, tick, sign and return their International Student Induction Checklist to the principal.

The Principal or the delegated person MUST collect all the completed forms, checking them to ensure they are filled correctly.

All forms MUST be filed in the students file.

Dealing with late arrivals / starters

In the event a student commences their course late / has been granted credit or simply missed the Induction, the principal or designated senior staff member will undertake an orientation program with that student prior to the commencement of classes.

Student Support Services and Support Personnel

The BCH has two staff members available to act as the Student Support Point-of-contact.

BCH will determine that it has sufficient personnel for the provision of support services for each campus. This process will utilize a risk assessment model based on BCH's current capacity, (that is registered with CRICOS).

It will consider factors that influence the need of support services such as but not limited to-

- LLN skills
- Cultural characteristics of the learner group.
- Cultural / ethnic community support
- Capacity to respond to critical incidents.
- Student numbers (1 for 100 students)

Currently BCH has determined it requires one support service officer for each campus and has nominated the following staff as the International Student Point of Contact or Support Services officers .

1 Shehnaz Bhangu

2 Amanda Nurpuri

Both have a responsibility to care for students needs on a daily and ongoing basis.

Should any student require the services of the above persons, they should simply approach the reception area and ask for an appointment to be scheduled with the nominated support officer.

Any support services provided by BCH will always be free of charge.

Any referrals provided to students BCH to support services will be free of charge.

BCH does not have a qualified counsellor on the premises and as such any associated costs for services provided by a third party who is not related to the Academy, will need to be covered by the individual student. Students should always be reminded to check with their insurance provider to check if they are eligible for cover.

If a student is in need of affordable dispute resolution services the RTO generally refers all disputes to the Australian Council for Private Education and Training (ACPET).

Determining Support Needs

The support officer's role is to provide a point of contact for all those seeking support. This person will be required to know and facilitate the accessing of information that will assist the learner to continue to participate in the learning process, minimising the external influences that may impact of their emotional and social well-being. This support can be provided both internally and externally depending on the nature of support required.

Typical responsibilities in this role include

- Promoting the availability of the support services throughout each campus.
- Maintaining information about the support services available to learners.
- Referring those seeking specialist support to key providers.
- Managing the recruitment, selection and supervision specialist providers, such as interpreters, note takers, scribes, tutors and mentors as approved by the CEO
- Preparing and disseminating reports, submissions and correspondence to key stakeholders in relation to the provision of Support Services.

- Acting as a liaison when providing information to students, parents and employers on the options available for people seeking specialist support in the vocational education and training sector in line with legislative requirements.
- Ensuring there are sufficient support personnel available according to the risk assessment model developed for this purpose.

Current history

There is limited documented information that correlates with the demand for specialist support. This is reflecting the low student numbers that have sought this service

Next step

BCH will appoint one support officer for every 150 learners that are current enrolled.

The officer's role and contact details will be provided on all communication relating to the provision of support services and it will also be published in the student's handbook.

BCH will record any occasion where a learner might need support.

This will be documented in the Learner's individual support plan.

The types of support needed may be in response to

English as a Second Language (ESL)

- e.g. Student are encouraged and supported to seek support through English language support services contacting either through ASA or other providers

Literacy and Numeracy (LLN)

- Skills for Education and Employment Programme (SEE) (suited for job seekers)

Physical capabilities

- Assessment practices are reasonably adjusted to suit learning support needs and industry

Typical support services can also include

- Lifeline
- beyondblue
- Domestic Violence
- Drug and Alcohol.
- Dept of Health
- various crisis centres
- National Indigenous Australian Agency
- Dept. of Home Affairs (previously DIBP)?
